'WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY THE MICE WILL PLAY'

Mr. Robinson is in New York looking up new ideas. While he's away we are going to have a little party of our own, and without consulting him. We want to do a big business to-day and all this week, so we'll tell you the secret: He was in Toronto the first of last week, and shipped us 420 of the most beautiful Suits that you ever saw. They're from a strictly hand-maker. Many of them are genuine Scotch Tweeds, some fancy worsteds, and a sprinkling of Tartan and Glen-Urihart Plaids. They're all real $25 and $30 Suits. He intended to put them on sale when he returned--but "The Mice Will Play." They go on the racks at - - -

Law Graduate Badly Wounded When Fighting

Pte. William B. Scott, Law '13, Is in Hospital at Boulogne, Recovering From Wounds

News was received yesterday that Pte. William B. Scott, Law '13, had been severely wounded in action at the front. He was enlisted with the 12th Battalion, C.E.F., at Valcartier, but upon reaching Salisbury camp he was transferred to the Royal Montreal Regiment, in which his father, Canon George Scott, is chaplain. It was while fighting in France that Pte. Scott was wounded and is at present convalescing in a base hospital at Boulogne. The wound, which is in the eye, is a rather severe one, but from the best information available, it is understood that he is progressing favorably and will probably be around again before long. Pte. Scott is a graduate of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, where he obtained his degree of B.A. in 1910. The fall of the same year he entered upon a law course at McGill and graduated as a B.C.L. in 1913. He was associated with the firm of Lafleur, McDougall, MacFarlane and Pope.

RED CROSS TEA WILL BE HELD ON MARCH 27TH

It has been customary every autumn for the Y.W.C.A. to hold a sale in order to get funds to send delegates to the Summer Conference at Muskoka. This fall the sale was given up in order that B.V.C. students might devote more time to Red Cross Work, which was more pressing at the time. Now the question arises, where are the funds to send delegates to Muskoka this summer? After much discussion of ways and means of raising money, the cabinet decided to hold a tea in the Common Room on Saturday, March 27th. Here is another grand opportunity for students to show their patriotism. It is a noble cause, since the sale gave place to Red Cross Work. Instead of going to Bryson's or the Castle Mennd come to the Common Room on Saturday, March 27th. The service and menu will be quite as enticing. A special invitation is extended to McGill students and faculty.

The Oriental Society Hears Rev. Dr. Rose

Why Most People Are Not Interested in the Bible as Literature Was the Subject

MANY REASONS CAN BE GIVEN

The Different View Points of the Eastern and Western Mind Clearly Accentuated

Why the great majority of people to-day are not more interested in the Bible as literature was the title of subject on which the Rev. Dr. Rose, addressed the members of the McGill Oriental Society last night. Many reasons could be given which were not to be found in the essential character of the literature itself. Some did not find the Bible of any interest simply because they did not read it. The lecturer told how on one occasion Oscar Wilde went up to Oxford to take an examination on the Bible. The examination was successfully passed, but still Wilde continue to read. In spite of numerous hints from the examiners that his departure was desired, he refused to lay down the Bible. At last, exasperated, he retorted, "Can't you let me read? I want to find out what happened to the fellows that were shipwrecked with Paul." This story pretty well indicated the interest which the Bible created when people simply take it up and read it. Other literature of a general and much less satisfactory character was devoured to-day while the Book remained neglected on the shelf. The conventional answer to the problem before him, the lecturer said, was that the heart of man was naturally depraved. But, whatever truth there might be in this explanation, it was altogether inadequate. For interest in the Bible was not always, indeed, frequently not in proportion to the depth of plety of its readers, but often in inverse ratio. The most interested readers could often be found to be far from possessing an exalted character. The lecturer thought that the real reason was not to be found along any such lines. Many religious associations of the Church had done much to bring the Bible to the notice of the people, at least in disfavour. He did not refer to the prohibition against the free reading of it which had existed and, in some quarters, did still exist, but to the exaggerated reverence with which it was handled, and of which it was spoken. The Bible was treated in a hushed sort of manner, as though it were too sacred a theme to be discussed except with hushed voice, and (Continued on page 2.)

The Council Discuss The Special Issue

One Free to Each Undergraduate --25c for Each Additional Copy

The regular meeting of the Students' Council was held last evening. The matter of the price of the War Number was brought up and it was decided that 25c apiece be the charge. In order to enable students to obtain as many copies as they require before the Daily is placed on sale to the general public it will be on sale at the Union for three days, and then at the bookstores, etc. Every undergraduate, bookstores, etc. Every undergraduate issue to be signed for at the Union. The matter of amending the Council constitution to provide for the resignation or death of the president was brought up and discussed. It was decided to appoint a committee to look into the affair and prepare an amendment. The procedure of the business of to-day's meeting was arranged after which the meeting adjourned.

Many Important Matters to Come Before Students To-day

Duty of Every Man to be Present at the Meeting this Morning at 11 O'clock--Stadium to be Discussed

The semi-annual meeting of the Students' Council will be held this morning at eleven o'clock, in the Union. Lectures have been suspended in all faculties from eleven till one, to enable every student to attend it. Matters of great importance to every undergraduate will be discussed. Every student who has taken even a casual interest in student activities knows the need of a new campus, track, gymnasium, etc. This need has at last been recognized and a new stadium is now under way. The management and control of this stadium is a big matter to be decided and the interest of every student is needed. The financial report of the Council (published below) and an estimated report will be read and discussed. Anyone who has attended the meetings of the Students' Society knows how the finances have been steadily improving for the past two years. The estimated report should therefore be of particular interest to all this year. Other student activities, such as the Daily, minor clubs, etc., will be brought up and considered. Now, the suspension of lectures by the Faculty should not be taken as a splendid opportunity to hold year meetings, work in the draughting

INDOOR ALL DOWN AT GYM.

To-morrow Sees First Practice—
Class Teams Are Wanted to Turn Out and Play

There are some important changes announced with reference to the regular university gymnasium classes. The classes that have been conducted on Wednesday's throughout the year have been changed to Thursday and henceforth the classes will be held on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 5:15 p.m. These classes will be conducted at the gymnasium until the end of the term. From now until the end of the term the work is to be of a different nature to that of the past.

The heavy gymnasium work is to be replaced by activities of a lighter recreative type and some novelties are to be introduced. It has been suggested that indoor baseball be made a feature and it is likely that some interesting class competition will develop. Indoor ball is rated as one of the fastest, snappiest and finest of the indoor games and a man has not necessarily to be a good outdoor player to make good indoors. If a good enough team is developed, some outside competition will certainly be held with teams from the Y.M.C.A. and the various local athletic clubs.

Apart from the fact of the fun and exercise to be derived from the game, there is the fact that by indoor practice men can readily round into shape for the outdoor spring programme. There are lots of classes in hall players in college who are just itching for the opportunity to start the game and once started it is bound to go along with success.

Many men make the foolish error of cutting out exercise as the exams are approaching. This is the very time when students particularly should make sure of their physical condition in order to be in the best of shape when the finals come around. It is with these facts in mind that the management has decided to run the recreative programme and there is little doubt that many men will avail themselves of this opportunity to get into the game.

Interclass and interfaculty games will be encouraged, but the exact nature of the series cannot be decided upon until a few trials are held. On Thursday afternoon at 3:15, the first work-out will take place at the Drummond street gym. Even though men have not yet secured their privilege tickets at the Y.M.C.A., they can do so at any time upon the presentation of the grounds ticket. Here is a chance to develop class spirit by digging out some diamond stars from your classes and by so doing get into good shape for the finals and at the same time have lots of fun.

The Gymnasium Results Good

Philips Exeter Academy Win Out in Gymnastic Meet at Harvard

Philips Exeter academy's star gymnasts had things very much their own way in the Harvard University third annual interscholastic meet last Saturday night in the Hemenway gymnasium. The New Hampshire schoolboys captured first places in five of the six events, and finished with a total score of 43 points, to 11 for Phillips Andover academy and scattering scores for other schools.

Kinball Atha, a former Newark, N.J., schoolboy, was the star of the winning team, having first places in his credit in three events, the parallel bars, side horse and tumbling. He had good support from other members of his team, particularly J. E. Nevin, formerly of St. Paul's school.

Prior to the meet the schoolboys who competed were entertained at dinner in the Varsity Club by the Harvard A.C. and plans for next year's meet were discussed. The judges were Dr. C. L. Schrader of the Hemenway Gymnasium; E. W. Ruge, of Harvard Law School, formerly a gymnastic captain at Yale; and J. E. Morton, captain of the Harvard team two years ago.

Team of Men Picked From Eastern Universities to go to San Francisco

An intercollegiate golf team, made up largely of men on the eastern university teams, will play at the San Francisco exposition early in July, according to plans announced by W. H. Gardner, 2nd of Buffalo, captain of Yale Yale golf team. Details of the plan have not been perfected as yet, and neither the team nor the opposing team have been selected.

The men will leave New Haven in June, immediately after the Yale-Harvard boat race on a special Yale train. Besides the week at the exposition, the team will play matches for 10 days at clubs along the Pacific coast. A match at Chicago on the return trip is being planned.

INCREASE IN POPULARITY

Basketball Becomes More Strongly Patronized Every Year—
Yale Gets Championship

That the intercollegiate Basketball League will have the most successful championship season in 1916 that has ever been known to that organization is the opinion of those who have followed the 1915 season which resulted in Yale capturing the championship title.

Not only has basketball shown a great increase in popularity at New Haven this winter, but all over the college circuit and with this increase in patronage it is confidently predicted that the next season will show even greater interest and better playing.

This winter's championship series will go down in history as one of the best ever known to the game. Yale won the title for the first time since 1907 and the fourth time since the league was organized in 1901. When the season started, Columbia was generally picked as the college most likely to capture the honors on account of the fact that Coach Fisher had some valuable veteran material with which to start the season. The Blue and White, however, failed to show championship class and was forced to finish in a tie for third place with Princeton.

Cornell took second place in the standing. The Red and White was handicapped in the midst of the season by the loss of Ashwood through scholastic conditions, which possibly cost them the title. Considering the material Coach Sharpe had to start the season with, the Red and White put up a wonderful showing. Yale played a splendid game and well deserved the honors. Team work was a big factor in the Blue's style of game and it was what really won the title. The Blue had few stars to start the season with, but faithful work on the part of coach and candidates turned out a free that was very hard to score on and was itself capable of rolling up a good number of points.

Princeton played a good game and lost her defeats by the narrowest possible margin, one was lost by 2 points. It would not have taken much to have made a championship five out of the Orange and Black squad.

Pennsylvania and Dartmouth failed to show up as strongly as expected when the season opened. The Red and Blue was able to win only three games during the entire season, two of them being against Dartmouth and the other against Columbia at the very start of the championship race. Dartmouth did not win a game during the entire season. The Green came close to getting one or two victories, Yale beating her by only two points in one game.

Catcher McCarty has signed a two-year contract with the Brooklyn Nationals, if he would be the club's regular catcher this summer.

Harvard varsity baseball begins in earnest this afternoon when the candidates for the infield and outfield positions join the pitchers and catchers.

Pitcher Rucker joined the Brooklyn National training camp Saturday. Pitcher Howell is now the only player under contract who has not reported at Daytona.

THE MILITARY HAPPENINGS AT OLD MCGILL

War Summary

FRANCE

The Allies' advance is slowly gaining momentum and it is stated that as soon as the ground becomes dry the whole force available will be thrown upon the German lines. It is stated that the Allies' guns have already reached the fort south of Lille. The British have recaptured St. Eloi and have also taken a number of German trenches near that place. In Champagne, further advances have been made northwest of Louvain. In the forest of Le Pretre, a number of trenches have been retaken by the French and on the great Belec Acher, half the enemy have been repulsed and a number of prisoners taken.

RUSSIA

The Germans have increased their endeavors to take the Russian fortress of Ostrow. At Przemysl, the Russian infantry has met with success and also along the river Olza. In the Baura region there is considerable activity and the Germans are rapidly reinforcing their lines.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

In the Carpathians, fighting is greatly hampered by the large amount of snow on the ground. The Russian bombardment of Przemysl still continues in spite of the Austrian efforts to relieve the place.

TURKEY

Several batteries at Kum Kale have been destroyed by British warships operating at the Dardanelles. The Allies are reported to have landed troops near Smyrna and that a combined land and naval attack will be made on the city.

GENERAL

In all probability the United States Government will make a protest to the British Government against the order-in-Council issued a few days ago. It is reported that in a few weeks British ships will turn out a number of ships of the Queen Elizabeth type, which will be mounted with 15 inch guns. These will be the strongest battleships in the world.

A "Field-service Post-card" dated February 22, 1915, has been received from Jeffrey R. Macphail, Arts '14, who is at the front with the 5th Field Company, Canadian Engineers. The postcard is the same as those in use by the British forces since the Expeditionary Force landed in France, and has all but three of the printed lines scored through. The three which remain bear the intelligence that Macphail is "quite well," that he has "received your letter dated January 25, 1915," and that a "letter follows at first opportunity."

Recruiting Posters Encourage Ireland

Dublin, March 17.—Recruiting posters which are being displayed all over Ireland bear across the bottom the inscription, "God Save the King, God Save Ireland." The Irish Times comments on this inscription: "We welcome what is, we think, an official innovation. In the national harmony of these two prayers lies the hope of Ireland's future peace and greatness."

MEETING OF SCIENCE UNDERGRAD SOCIETY.

There will be a meeting of the executive of the Science Undergraduate Society this afternoon, in Room 37, Engineering Building, at 4.45. All members of the executive are asked to make a special point of attending this meeting as there is important business to be discussed.

Statistics Show Little Decline

Figures published by the Admiralty show no decline since the commencement of the German blockade in the arrival and sailing of overseas steamers of all nationalities to and from United Kingdom ports. The week ending March 10, the number was 1,557 as against 1,438 in the week immediately previous to the opening of the blockade.

By mine, cruiser or submarine, 19 British vessels were sunk or captured in the first week of the blockade, one in the second, and four in the third, the gross tonnage sunk being considerably less than during many weeks in the opening months of the war.

The Chicago-Americans won six of the eight games played with the Los Angeles Pacific Coast team this spring.
